

July 2017 Volunteer of the Month: Dr. Lee Pack

The ACORN Clinic would like to take the opportunity to recognize Dr. Lee Pack as the July 2017 Volunteer of the Month. Dr. Lee Pack is a Primary Medical Care provider, specializing in Family Medicine who has been volunteering at ACORN since 1993. Each month he and his fellow physicians in their private practice alternate visiting the ACORN Clinic to provide high quality care to our patients. Dr. Lee Pack's medical career has been closely tied to the surrounding community as he attended The University of Florida for his undergraduate education, medical school, and residency.

Dr. Lee Pack loves his job and says that he is an "introvert, peaceful, and quiet." He shared a story evidencing just how much he loves his profession, "One morning I woke up at 5:30 a.m. like normal, excited to get to work. My wife asked why I was up and getting ready because it was Saturday. I was disappointed and spent the rest of the weekend looking forward to Monday." At the ACORN Clinic we are pleased to have volunteers like Dr. Lee Pack who are so excited to work and serve our community.

On a wall in Dr. Lee Pack's office hangs a plaque given to him by his brother with a quote by William Penn, "I expect to pass through life but once. If therefore, there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do to any fellow being, let me do it now, and not defer or neglect it, as I shall not pass this way again." Dr. Lee Pack believes this quote to be a morsel of wisdom and a virtue to guide your actions by. He translates this belief through his work at ACORN. Dr. Lee Pack says, "Volunteering at ACORN is both a privilege and obligation to the community and I feel privileged to have peoples trust to take care of them both in my own practice and at ACORN."
